Communist Party Fined by U.S. Court

By STANLEY MEISLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communist party has been convicted and fined $120,000 for failing to register as an agent of the Soviet Union. But the 12-year legal wrangle goes on.

Joseph Forer and John J. Abt, lawyers for the Communist party, said they plan to appeal the decision to the U.S. Court of Appeals and, if necessary, to the Supreme Court.

A federal jury of eight women and four men took only 35 minutes Monday to find the party guilty on all 12 counts of the indictment. U.S. Dist. Judge Alexander Holtzoff then imposed the maximum fine—$10,000 for each count.

Imposition of the maximum fine led to speculation about whether the Communist party has the money to pay it. If the fine is not paid, the Justice Department could seize the party's assets. A Justice Department attorney said he expected the fine will be suspended pending the party's appeal.

The defense made pleaded the party's right to use the Fifth Amendment during the trial, which began a week ago but judge Holtzoff said only a living person not an organization, could invoke the Fifth Amendment, which began a week ago but self-incrimination.

Congress passed the Subversive Activities Control Act, better known than the McCarran Act, in 1950.

Under the act, the Subversive Activities Control Board found that the Communist party was acting as an agent of the Soviet Union. The act required such organizations to register with the attorney general.

But the party refused contending that the act was unconstitutional.

The Supreme Court found the McCarran act constitutional in 1961.

The Justice department set Nov. 1961 as the deadline for the party to register.

The party was indicted on 11 counts for failing to register on each of the days between Nov. 20 and Nov. 30 and on a 12th count for failing to file a registration statement listing information about its leaders, members and finances.

Kennedy Kids Visit Santa

By FRANCES LEWINE

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Kennedy's youngsters, like millions of other American children, have been to see a department store Santa Claus in time to place their Christmas orders.

First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy, lost no time—on arriving in chilly Florida—in settling out on the excursion with her children.

She passed up the glitter of Palm Beach's more exclusive toy stores and took Caroline, 5, and 2-year-old John F. Jr., to see a department store toyland and a Santa in nearby West Palm Beach.

Mrs. Kennedy and her children spent two hours in Burdine's late Saturday afternoon. Caroline sat on Santa's lap, but John preferred to look on from a distance.

What they ordered remains Santa's secret.

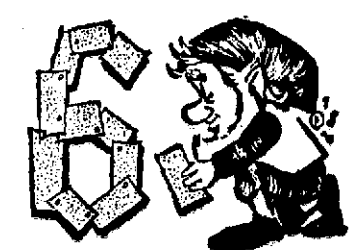

Caroline sat on Santa's lap in his specially decorated headquarters on the third floor. They rode an escalator to get there, with Mrs. Kennedy holding John Jr. on her hip.

Three Injured in Local Plant Blast Today

Three persons were injured about midmorning when a new press at Southern Plaster Corporation exploded. Although painful the men were not considered in critical condition. The injured are Floyd Chance, Ben Rice and Bobby McKemie.

All were believed to be doing well at noon at a local hospital. Mr. Rice appeared to be the most seriously injured. He suffered a broken arm while McKemie sustained a hip injury. Mr. Chance and Rice suffered scalp burns from steam.

There was no immediate explanation from plant officials as to exactly what happened. The new press was in process of being tested and "just exploded." The press exerts a tremendous amount of pressure and is used in moulding sawdust into wall board. Company officials said production would not be curtailed by the blast. The amount of the loss could not be estimated immediately.

President Believes Cuban Crisis Proved to Russians Danger of World Conflicts

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy believes the Cuban crisis taught Soviet Premier Khrushchev "how dangerous a world we live in" but that it will be some time before the United States will "come to any real understanding" with him.

If the Communists would devote their energies to demonstrating how their system works instead of trying to change the balance of power "we could have a long period of peace," Kennedy said. "But it is, he said, the Red Chinese and Soviet determination to make a Communist world in a nuclear age that 'makes the sixties so dangerous.'"

However, in a chatty interview that set a television "first" Monday night, the President said "we ought to be rather pleased with ourselves this Christmas" for thwarting the threat of Communist domination.

The President made no effort to paint a rosy picture of U. S.-Soviet relations in the interview which was also carried on radio. The Cuban crisis, he said, has made successful negotiations with the Kremlin more difficult because the Russians — through deception — tried to change the balance of power by sneaking missiles into Cuba.

"So it is going to be some time before it is possible for us to come to any real understanding with Mr. Khrushchev." And he saw no advantage in a summit meeting soon.

"I don't think there is a need for us to meet now," he said. "I think probably he feels the same way."

Kennedy said, though, that the Soviet premier's speech to the Supreme Soviet (parliament) last week shows that he realizes perils of the nuclear age.

Khrushchev knows, he said, that if Russia ever fires its missiles the United States will have enough to "fire back at him to destroy the Soviet Union."

The chief executive covered much of the world in an hour-long question-and-answer session with William H. Lawrence of ABC, George Herman of CBS and Sandra Vancouver NBC.

The verbal tour brought out evidence that Kennedy has all but written off the possibility of opening Cuba — or any Communist territory — to inspection. Yet his administration has laid down a fundamental policy that inspection is vital in Cuba and necessary to any disarmament pact with Russia.

It brought out word, too, that Kennedy still thinks he was right in forcing a rollback of steel prices and in ordering troops onto the University of Mississippi campus to protect Negro James H. Meredith.

The interview was filmed Sunday afternoon in Kennedy's oval office at the White House. It lasted 90 minutes and then was

Students Gather 1400 Cans of Food

As a Christmas project, the Hope High Student Council undertook Christmas cans for the needy. This was a contest between the classes to see which class could bring the most cans of food, which would all be given to help needy families have a merrier Christmas this year.

Beginning December 3, the freshman class took an early lead followed respectively by the sophomores, juniors and seniors. Since they had led all week long everyone thought that the freshmen were sure to win Tuesday when the contest was scheduled to end, but a last minute rally tied the juniors with the freshmen; so a run-off was in order for Wednesday. The sophomores came in third and the seniors came in at the low spot.

A total of 480 cans had been brought by Tuesday, but this figure is small compared to Wednesday. The junior class won by bringing in 594 cans Wednesday alone. The freshmen came through with 333. As a reward for a job well done, the juniors will go to lunch ten minutes early every day of the week we return to school after Christmas.

The Student Council was able to turn over more than 1400 cans of food to the Lions Club to be distributed to needy families.

The Student Council deserves a lot of credit for project well done, especially the Project Finance Committee, Mac McLarty, chairman, also, the entire student body is to be congratulated for their gifts to make Christmas just a little happier this year for those who might not have had a Merry Christmas if the students hadn't taken to heart a worthwhile cause.

Has Plan to Stamp Out Tuberculosis

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Health Department announced Saturday a 4-point program for stamping out tuberculosis.

Dr. Paul W. Reagan, director of the Division of Tuberculosis Control, said the plan for 1963 included: (1) rejection of all existing TB statistics as unreliable and valueless, (2) sending mobile X-ray units into communities which rarely see them now, (3) expansion of the chest X-ray program in cooperation with private doctors and (4) more coordination between workers in the fight against TB.

Health officials hope the program eventually will lead to establishment of diagnostic centers in Arkansas, a goal recommended almost five years ago by TB control experts.

Rejection of current TB statistics or the state is necessary, Reagan said, because certain lung diseases closely resemble TB. He said spot checks in some counties have turned up enough invalid TB tests to convince him that current records were questionable.

Reagan said chest clinics would be held next year at Blytheville, Paragould, Walnut Ridge, Pocahontas, Camden, El Dorado, Hot Springs, Forrest City, Harrisburg, Wynne, Arkadelphia, Malvern, Newport, Marianna, Marion, West Memphis, Monticello, Batesville, Benton, Helena, Mountain Home, Humboldt, Conway,

Pope Names Redrafting Commission

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII named members of a special commission today to coordinate redrafting of proposals before the Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council.

When the council began a nine-month recess Dec. 8, the Pope told its 12 drafting commissions to use the recess to condense and consolidate proposals.

He said a special commission would coordinate the work of the 12 commissions. Today he named six cardinals and six prelates to this important coordinating body.

The nominees: Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York; Achille Cardinal Lienart, bishop of Lille, France; Julius Cardinal Döpfner, archbishop of Munich, Germany; Leo Jozef Cardinal Suenens, archbishop of Malines-Brussels, Belgium; Carlo Cardinal Confalonieri, secretary of the Consistorial Congregation, and Giovanni Cardinal Urbani, patriarch of Venice, Italy.

The six prelates are Archbishop Pericle Felici, secretary of the Vatican Ecumenical Council; and the five undersecretaries of the council.

The five undersecretaries are: Archbishop John Joseph Krol of Philadelphia, Pa.; Archbishop Pierre Veillot, auxiliary of Paris; Bishop Wilhelm Kempt of Limburg, Germany; Archbishop Casimiro Morcillo Gonzales of Zaragoza, Spain; and Archbishop Philippe Nabaa of Beirut of the Melchites.

Vatican circles said all council elements — progressives, conservatives and moderates — appear to be represented.

The other council bodies will examine 70 projects, or theses, drafted by precouncil committees.

Pope John has asked that these proposals be boiled down to 20. Some prelates have said the council could last years, but the Pope has expressed the hope it would finish by Christmas 1963. It opened Oct. 11, and resumes its work next Sept. 8.

32 Named for Rhodes Scholarship

WARTHMORE, Pa. (AP) — Thirty-two men from 23 states were named Sunday winners of Rhodes scholarships for study at Oxford University, England.

The winners included two Negroes. One other previous Negro had been named in the United States in the history of the scholarship which dates back to 1904. The will of British statesman Cecil Rhodes, which established the scholarships in 1899, said, "No student shall be qualified or disqualified for election to a scholarship on account of his race or religious opinion."

The appointments were announced by Courtney Smith, President of Swarthmore College and American secretary of the Rhodes scholarships.

The Negroes named were John E. Wideman of Pittsburgh, captain of the University of Pennsylvania basketball team and an English literature major, and Joseph Stanley Sanders of Los Angeles, a Little All-American football end and student body president at Whittier (Calif.) College.

The other Negro Rhodes scholar from the United States was Alain Locke from Harvard University in 1907.

"I'm very excited," said Wideman, "very happy. I wanted very much to get it. I was quite shocked. I didn't really expect it but at the same time I was hoping for it."

Wideman said he planned to continue studying English literature at Oxford and eventually to become a college instructor.

The new scholars will enter Oxford next October, where they will have the chance to study for at least two years in any field of their choice in which the university offers a degree.

Among the others named was Sam W. Westbrook III, of Elmendorf Air Force Base, Alaska, the first American Rhodes scholar to be chosen from the 49th state. Westbrook is wing commander for the second semester at the U.S. Air Force Academy.

Nativity Pageant at Washington

The Nativity pageant, "Until the Day Dawn," will be presented by groups from Washington and Nashville churches at the First Baptist Church in Washington, at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

The pageant was written by the Rev. Geo. F. Johnson, former pastor of Washington and Nashville Presbyterian Churches, and has previously been presented as a joint effort of Nashville Presbyterian, the Washington Presbyterian and the Washington Baptist Churches.

The pageant will be presented at the Nashville church the following Sunday.

The public is invited to each of these presentations.

Baptist Jr. Choir Plans Program

The Junior Choir of the First Baptist will present the cantata "Lo, a Star" on Wednesday evening, December 19 at 7:30 in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church. The presentation is under the direction of Gilbert Thomas, music director. Christmas scenery is being prepared under the direction of Mr. Ferrell Williams.

The Cantata was presented for each of the elementary schools on Monday morning and has been taped recorded by Radio Station KXAR for a broadcast on Christmas Day.

All Around Town

By The Star Staff

As in the past the Hope Star will hold a Christmas Party for all newboys in this area. The dinner will be held December 21 at 7 p. m. at the Diamond Cafe. All newboys, whether they deliver the Star or some other newspaper, are invited. All newboys are asked to contact the Star office if they plan to attend.

The Golden Age Club will hold its annual Christmas Party Thursday, December 20, at the Youth Center at 12 noon. All members are urged to be present.

Thurston Holroyd, Washington school superintendent, bought twin calves and now tells us that one of the twins had twins, a heifer and a bull. This is indeed rare, says Mr. Hulsey.

The Civitan Club still has Christmas trees for sale. Go to Child's Food Store lot and make your selection. All sizes at reasonable rates. And the money goes to a worthwhile cause.

This is the final day of school this year. All students will be dismissed at 2:50 p. m. for the Christmas holidays. Regular classes will be resumed on January 2, 1963.

Three Hope students sang with the Southern State College Town and Gown choir when the 80-member group presented the Christmas music from Handel's Messiah in the new physical education building on December 14. The Hope students are Linda Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl R. Evans; Carl McMurry, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. G. McMurry of Palmers; and Janet Roberts, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. C. L. Roberts. Miss Evans is a junior business education major. Mr. McMurry is a freshman accounting major and Miss Roberts is a sophomore elementary education major.

Kennedy and Macmillan in Conference

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

NASSAU, Bahamas ap — President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan open wide-ranging talks here today at a moment of strain and division within both the NATO and Communist camps.

The President, with his party of advisers, was expected here at 11 a.m. (EST) on a flight from Andrews Air Force Base near Washington.

Macmillan's jet plane came in from London Monday night.

They were expected to get down to business soon after Kennedy arrived.

The President is staying at the home of Toronto financier E. P. Taylor, in the luxurious Lyford Cay development. Macmillan is staying next door at the home of Mrs. W. R. G. Holt.

The two leaders will delve deeply into problems that threaten to cause serious quarrels within the Western alliance, and into assessments of the present cold war situation and the widening split between the two Communist camps led by the Soviet Union and Red China.

Their discussions will cover the Skybolt controversy, the strategy to be followed in the wake of the October crisis over Cuba. The Moscow-Peking split which deepened from Soviet Premier Khrushchev's backdown over Cuba and Red China's border attack on India, and the future British-American military assistance program to India.

The Cuban crisis, which brought the world to the brink of nuclear war, sharpened American pressure on Britain and France to abandon their independent nuclear deterrent forces and concentrate instead on increasing their conventional forces.

The United States has informed Britain it intends to scrap the Skybolt bomber-borne missile, in view of five test failures and an estimated eventual cost of $2.5 billion to develop it.

This has raised objections in Congress and protests from the British that it would scrap their nuclear deterrent as well. Britain planned to equip the missiles with its own nuclear warheads and put them aboard its submarine bombers.

The London Daily Mail reported Macmillan will ask Kennedy for a "stay of execution" of the Skybolt decision for at least three months.

This delay would enable Britain still to claim she is a nuclear power as she faces the six-nation European Common Market in the hard bargaining still coming up over her admission to the trading bloc.

On leaving Britain Macmillan declared he had no doubt the President would find a way around their difficulties "in the spirit of agreement which we have always had with the merican people."

Asks Allies to Slow Defense Plan

NEW YORK (AP)—Dean Acheson, former secretary of state, has counseled America's European allies to lay aside nuclear ambitions if they want to join the United States in "a sound strategic plan" for the defense of the continent.

"A European-produced nuclear force would be a tragic misuse of resources essential to provide basic elements of defense," Acheson declares in an appraisal of North Atlantic Treaty Organization military strength in the magazine Foreign Affairs.

Hopes Castro Will Accept Free Food

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Relatives of prisoners taken during the Bay of Pigs invasion wanted help today for Fidel Castro to say when and if he will accept food and medicine for their freedom.

A team of negotiators headed by James B. Donovan, New York attorney, is in Miami.

The team will fly to Havana to make final arrangements when Cuba approves their Miami-to-Havana flight.

The S. S. African Pilot, 425-foot freighter designated by the International Red Cross as the vessel to deliver the ransom to Cuba, headed south from Baltimore and is due at Port Everglades, 30 miles north of Miami, Wednesday. The Red Cross has assumed sponsorship of the exchange.

If Castro and the negotiators agree, the ship will be loaded with food and medicine stockpiled at Miami.

Plans call for Pan American World Airways jets to fly to Havana to pick up the prisoners. The ship will be in port at sea headed for Cuba when the planes take off from Havana.

Castro has demanded $62 million worth of food and medical supplies or equipment in exchange for the prisoners.

The dollar figure is supposed to represent Havana prices and in the United States is estimated to be worth $13 million at wholesale.

Universal Has Two Fine Attractions

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Universal has come up with two year-end attractions which prove the studio is capable of producing something besides cream-puff comedies.

The two films are "To Kill a Mockingbird" and "Freud," and they are as different and as mercurial as anything that the movies have had to offer this year.

Actually, neither is exactly new. They represent a return to the kind of craftsmanship that Hollywood once excelled in but was lately neglected.

"To Kill a Mockingbird" is taken almost intact from the condensing Harper Lee novel about depression-year life in a small Alabama town.

As in the novel, the story is seen mostly through the eyes of a small girl and boy, children of a Lincnesque lawyer who defends a Negro man accused of raping a white girl.

The attorney's daughter is played by Mary Badham, whose father is a retired Air Force general. The son is Phillip Alford, son of a Birmingham, Ala., building contractor. Both youngsters are perfect.

So is Gregory Peck, playing his most credible role in years as the right-minded Atticus.

Spent $19,289 on Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., has reported to the secretary of the Senate that he received contributions of $20,481 and spent $19,289 in his recent successful campaign for reelection.

His Republican opponent, Dr. Kenneth Jones of Little Rock, reported contributions of $20,896 and expenditures of $22,642.

Fulbright said his expenditures included $16,192 in expenses which aren't counted in figuring the amount a senatorial candidate is allowed to spend.

Jones said his exempt expenditures amounted to $11,344. Exempt items are amounts spent for personal traveling expenses, meals, postage, telephone, telegraph, stationery, printing and circulars.

Pope Resumes Audiences

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII resumed business audiences today with high Vatican priorities.

The 81-year-old Roman Catholic pontiff has not held such audiences since he became seriously ill three weeks ago. He has a stomach ailment and anemia.

He has been returning to work gradually. Sunday he received King Mwambutsa of Burundi in private audience.

can take credit for a skillful adaptation of one of the best-loved books in recent times.

While "Mockingbird" is a throwback to a gentler kind of film story-telling, "Freud" has its roots in the biographies of men of science which Hollywood did so well in the 1930s.

Freud's search into the dark corners of the mind is an adventure itself, but strictly an intellectual one. There is little action and scant violence. But for those willing to use their minds instead of the emotions in movie-watching, it can be as fascinating an experience as the best whodunit.

"Freud" returns John Huston to his previous eminence. After a string of lackluster efforts in which he seemed to have little interest, he once again justifies his talents as a great film maker.

Montgomery Clift is a superlative Freud, without the affectations that have marred his recent work. Susannah York has an amazing range as the psychotic with whom he makes his historic discovery. It's good to see Larry Parks back in a long and important role, which he makes consistently interesting.

"Mockingbird" and "Freud" may not earn the bundle that a Doris Day-Rock Hudson confection would. But they are worthy efforts that deserved to be made and should be patronized.

Mankind Is Own Worst Enemy

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Things look upside down and wrong side up as 1962 slithers toward a close in this dizzy world where mankind has been its own worst enemy.

Soviet troops in Cuba may be more help than danger, at least temporarily.

Gigantic Russia's relations with her gigantic Red Chinese ally never looked worse.

And U.S. allies may be worried because American-Russian relations suddenly seem better but for the poorest reasons.

Russia, in addition to medium and intermediate range missiles which she mockingly withdrew under American pressure, gave Fidel Castro other weapons.

The Russian troops sticking around, perhaps to handle those other weapons in the very unlikely case of an American invasion, may be serving another purpose which benefits the United States.

They may be also keeping the Soviet weapons out of the hands of Castro's unpredictable, particularly if they're the kind which could be used against the U.S.

An attack on that base would really put the fat in the fire for then the United States would probably feel compelled to invade.

And if that happened Premier Khrushchev would probably feel compelled to go to Cuba's assistance—unless he washed his hands of Castro altogether—and then all the fat there would be in the fire.

It was Khrushchev's withdrawal of his missiles that set the Red Chinese loose in their worst burst of vituperation against the Russians. Khrushchev has replied in kind.

At this moment no one seems to know, and this includes the Russians and Chinese, whether the Red allies will split and thus split the Communist world or somehow continue to do business while loathing each other in public.

For sheer hypocrisy and deceit, nothing since World War II matched the Soviet attempt to put missiles in Cuba, aimed at the United States, while insisting they were strictly defensive.

Once the scheme was discovered and Khrushchev backed down, relations between the United States and Russia became, if not downright cordial, at least amazingly non-hostile.

Last week before the Soviet parliament the Russian leaders, from Khrushchev down, were so pleasant about the United States that in Paris the speech of Foreign Secretary Andrei Gromyko was regarded as "virtually pro-American."

It's too soon to say whether the purgation of the spirit which the two foes endured in the Cuban crisis has created an era of new and better relations between the United States and Russia.

But Sunday French officials said they understood President De Gaulle, at his meeting with British Prime Minister Macmillan, expressed concern at the possibility a special American-Soviet relationship might be developing.

This may seem an odd reaction since De Gaulle has hoped for a new and better relationship between Russia and the West to assure a long period of peace for Europe.

The most dramatic sign of a Washington-Moscow understanding, as De Gaulle was said to see it, lay in the plan, endorsed by President Kennedy, for a so-called hot line between the White House and the Kremlin.

The idea behind such fast communication would be to lessen the chance of accidental nuclear war. To this extent Paris endorses it.

But some French authorities fear this kind of direct tie-in might lead to direct political exchanges between the United States and Russia making them both less concerned about Europe, particularly France and Britain.

All these things are bits of unfinished business, unimagined at the start of 1962 as the old year drizzles out.

Fear Chinese Can't Be Driven Out

EDITOR'S NOTE — Correspondent David Lancashire toured the Himalayan northwest frontier in the disputed Ladakh region. Here is his account of conditions there, delayed by relay to New Delhi for submission to Indian censorship.

By DAVID LANCASHIRE
LEH, India (AP)—Indian troops are digging in along the frozen, windswept cease-fire line in Ladakh, one of the world's bleakest areas. Their officers talk of driving the Chinese out, but admit it would take years.

Only wisps of snow dust across the bare plateau northeast of here where two powerful Chinese divisions are poised. The Himalayas and Karakoram—the world's second mightiest mountain range—are so high they cut off snowfall from areas where the bloody fighting occurred in October and November.

Key passes in China's Sinkiang Province to the north are reported closed by snow, but the Chinese access routes from Tibet, an arsenal to the east, are still open. And the Chinese strength is so superior in Ladakh that Peking can press the trigger again whenever it wants to.

To avoid giving provocation, Indian troops are not moving forward into the no-man's land left between the two sides. But there is no sign that they are pulling back the 12½ miles demanded by Peking in its cease-fire proclamation.

As many as 50 Indian air force planes, thread their way daily through the Himalayas—when weather permits—ferrying supplies. The only road connecting Ladakh to the rest of India is closed by snow.

Big U.S. Air force C130s with American crews also swoop past a 900-year-old Tibetan-style monastery to land cargo on Leh's steel-strip runway.

In the bitter fighting in Ladakh, most of the battle was over in two days. India lost an estimated 491 men; garrisons of some posts were almost entirely wiped out, officers at headquarters reported.

"The Chinese came down like ants. It did not matter a bit to them how many were killed," said an Indian commander.

Senior officers expressed confidence that Indian defenses will be able to hold off further Chinese attacks. They spoke enthusiastically of driving the Chinese out of Ladakh but made it clear this was a matter of years.

Hails Decision for Industry

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — William P. Rock, executive secretary of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission, said Monday a U.S. Supreme Court decision handed down earlier Monday will benefit states trying to attract industry.

The ruling vested workers' rights, in the event their plant is moved, in the wording of their contract.

"—think this clears up a great deal of discussion on both sides about carrying union problems into new areas," Rock said.

Judge George H. Moore ruled in federal district court at St. Louis last December that the Blades Manufacturing Co. at Rector and the Southern Manufacturing Co. of Walnut Ridge must move back to St. Louis because they violated terms of their collective bargaining agreement with the International Association of Machinists by moving to Arkansas.

Petrofina Purchases New Firm

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—American Petrofina Co. of Dallas, Tex., which bought interests of Zach Brooks Drilling Co. of El Dorado, Ark., in 1959, has purchased an interest in the Citronelle oil field in Alabama.

American Petrofina is believed to have paid more than $1 million for a 6 per cent interest in the 246-well secondary recovery unit at Citronelle.

Lloyd H. Smith and Caroline Weiss Law of Houston, Tex., sold the interest to Harry A. Jackson, president of American Petrofina. The price was not disclosed.

Brooks drilled the Citronelle discovery well in August 1955 and then sold to Smith Dec. 30, 1959, for about $4 million.

The Citronelle field, Alabama's only major field, now has 352 producing wells, of which 246 of the older wells are in the secondary recovery unit.

The secondary recovery unit involves water injection into certain wells to force the crude into surrounding wells because crude normally cannot be fully recovered by usual pumping methods.

Jackson said reserves in the unit are estimated at more than 3 million barrels, which would make the gross value at the wellhead $21.7 million at the current market price.

Arkla Planning an Extension

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal Power Commission heard a request Monday by Arkansas-Louisiana Gas Co. of Shreveport, La., for authority to build $13,101,300 worth of pipe line facilities to tap new gas supplies in eastern Oklahoma.

The company said the Arkoma Basin, where it intends to acquire the gas, has 720 billion cubic feet of gas in proven recoverable reserves.

The company's application also seeks authorization to operate $10 million worth of gas facilities presently used in intrastate operations in Arkansas as interstate facilities.

The company would build about 160 miles of 24-inch, 14-inch, and 8-inch pipe lines and additional necessary lateral lines to tap the gas in the Arkoma Basin.

Judge Is Named

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mrs. Partee Tuberville was named Monday by Gov. Orval E. Faubus to serve as Columbia County Judge O. W. Taylor, who died Dec. 6, Faubus set Dec. 23 as the date for a special election in the county to name a judge to serve a full two-year term. As an appointee Mrs. Tuberville cannot succeed herself.

Woman Strangled

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A Trans-Texas Airways stewardess who failed to report for a scheduled flight to Little Rock, Ark., was found dead Monday in a motel room, clad in a nightgown pulled to her shoulders. The coroner said she was strangled. She was found by a TTA official and a bellhop at the motel.

Newport Manager Issue Passes

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP) — Newport residents approved a switch to the city manager form of government during an Aug. 27 special election, Jackson Circuit Judge Andrew G. Ponder ruled Monday.

Ponder ruled the issue passed by 15 votes, 849 to 834. The vote total following the election was certified as 888 to 866 against the proposed change in type of government.

Ponder ruled that 71 invalid votes were cast in the election. Fifty-four votes cast against the city manager form of government were disqualified, while 17 of those thrown out were for the change.

Court proceedings began last Monday on suits filed by both sides last September. There was no indication the case would be appealed.

Most of the votes made invalid were cast by voters who were not legal residents of the ward in which they voted or of the city, Ponder said.

Push buttons run our "satellite" compressor stations

Only one man comes around the "satellite" compressor stations on our natural gas pipeline . . . and he's a caretaker—for these stations are unmanned. Their operation is regulated by push buttons in manned stations miles away. There are a growing number of these electronically operated satellite stations on our system, some of which are located as far as 1200 miles from their control centers.

These remotely-controlled power units provide another economical way to meet the varying day-to-day needs of our natural gas customers. As the leading pipeline of energy, we make use of every tool that can help reduce the cost of moving energy from source to market. Automation, as represented by our satellite stations, is one of the most promising ways we have found to keep gas transmission costs down. Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation, Houston, Texas.

Loyola Seems Most Exciting Cage Team

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Loyola of Chicago's rascally basketball team is something to be excited about.

In five games, all victories, the Cardinals have piled up 559 points in a 111.8 average. Monday night's game, ranked fourth in the latest Associated Press poll, hit a season high while celebrating Western Michigan 123-102.

Fifth-ranked Mississippi State and its market line of the campaign in Blacksburg, Va. where Georgia Tech ended State's 19-game winning streak in an 82-65 upset. And ninth-ranked Kentucky was knocked off by North Carolina 68-66 for its second setback this month in its Lexington, Ky., home. Virginia Tech was the initial spoiler 80-77 on Dec. 1.

Illinois, No. 3, trounced San Jose State 96-61, but the 10th-ranked Seattle Chieftains just managed to squeak past Xavier of Ohio 76-74.

In other top games, Wichita State's Arizona State first defeat of the season, 92-90, when Larry Nashed hit a jump shot with five seconds left in overtime.

Iowa turned back a late Clemson rally for a 74-64 victory; Southern Methodist beat North-western 70-75; Houston defeated Missouri 75-61; Morehead kept its unbeaten record intact with an 81-70 conquest of St. Bonaventure; Iowa State trounced Toledo 69-51; Kansas whipped Denver 68-43.

Nebraska edged Miami of Ohio 72-69; Bradley outlasted Adams State 82-66; Indiana tripped Detroit 82-84 and Tennessee romped over The Citadel 73-56.

Nashed's dramatic basket for Wichita on its home court was his only one of the game against Arizona State. He entered the contest with two minutes left in regulation time. Dave Stallworth of the Shockers was the high-point man with 30.

Elsewhere, Georgia Tech eased away from a 26-all halftime tie and edged Alabama 58-55 at Tusculum, Ala., on a Southeastern Conference game that doesn't count in the standings; Furman edged William and Mary 56-55; Wayne Estes had 32 points as Utah State outlasted San Diego State 101-57; Creighton defeated Ohio University 57-55 at Omaha; Baylor downed Tulane 75-66; Auburn defeated Chattanooga 79-37; and Oklahoma State stayed unbeaten with a 68-62 triumph over New Mexico State.

Bantamweight Scores Knockout

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—

Bantamweight Jesus Pimentel, 119½ pounds, scored a ninth round knockout over Manuel Tarazon, 119, in a scheduled 10-rounder at a nightclub here Monday night.

The fight was a Joe Louis promotion. Many famous Hollywood stars turned out for the show, which was a charity event benefiting the Marine Corps Reserve's "Toys For Tots" program.

Both fighters are from Mexico.

AFL Playoff Pairs Dallas and Houston

By ACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Dallas and Houston, the two teams that met Sunday at Houston for the American Football League title, placed a total of 11 men on the first offensive and defensive units of the All-AFL team elected for The Associated Press today by a committee of sports writers and broadcasters in the eight league cities.

Dallas, the Western Division champs, put quarterback Len Dawson, halfback Abner Haynes and end Chris Burford on the offensive team and linebackers Sherrell Hendrick and EM J. Holub and safety Bob Hunt on the defensive club.

Houston, Eastern winners for the third straight year, put flanker back Charlie Hennigan and tackle Al Jamison on the offensive team and end Don Floyd, tackle Ed Husmann and corner back Tony Banfield on the defensive unit.

The first team backfield included fullback Cookie Gilchrist of Buffalo, who set a league ground-gaining record of 1,096 yards rushing, and Dawson, Haynes and Hennigan.

Teaming up with Burford, who will miss the title game because of injuries, was Lionel Taylor of Denver. Harold Olson of Buffalo got the other offensive tackle job with Jamison. Buffalo's Billy Shaw and San Diego's Ron Mix are the guards. Jim Oat, the dependable Oakland center, again was named to that post.

Larry Eisenhauer of Boston and Bud McFadin of Denver teamed up with Floyd and Husmann for the "front four" on defense. Larry Grantham of the New York Titans joined Hendrick and Holub as the linebackers.

The defensive backs are Fred Williamson of Oakland, Austin Gonsoulin of Denver and Banfield and Hunt.

Figured They Would Meet in a Bowl

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—

It might be ironic that Arkansas and Mississippi were paired in the Sugar Bowl game to be played in New Orleans next Jan. 1.

The Arkansas-Mississippi regular season series was terminated after the 1961 game.

"You know," Broyles was saying the other day, "when people chided me about cancelling the series I told them that we'd play Mississippi in a bowl game. Now look."

He could have mixed emotions about the irony.

Broyles has headed the Razorback program that has given Arkansas its four most productive football seasons, but he hasn't managed a triumph over a Johnny Vaught-coached team.

The Rebs' 16-0 decision last year gave them a fourth-straight victory over a Broylescoached Arkansas team.

"And here we are again," Broyles said.

The Razorbacks began their fifth day of Sugar Bowl practice today, but Broyles said the team wouldn't get down to serious planning until after Christmas.

"I think Ole Miss' record speaks of how good the Rebels are this year," Broyles said.

Mississippi went 9-0 this season—the first unbeaten record football in the school's history.

"Other coaches that have played Ole Miss tell me this is the best team ever over there," he said. "I've seen some Rebel game films and I believe what I've heard."

He said he didn't plan to introduce any new plays for the Sugar Bowl game, but would "try to adjust what we have to the Ole Miss defense."

The team will work only three days this week and break camp for the Christmas holidays. They will regroup Dec. 26 and fly to Biloxi, Miss., where they will make serious preparations for the bowl battle.

Arkansas fans, recalling the last four battles with Ole Miss, haven't been quick to point out that the Rebels nailed down their first unbeaten season in years which they didn't meet Arkansas.

But at least a few of them can't help wondering whether the Rebels would have been 10-0 or 9-1 at this point.

Bobcats Win But 4 Other Teams Lose

By CARTER HARDAGE

Last night, while playing five games, Hope managed to salvage only one. On the local court Hope split a pair of games with Arkadelphia. The senior boys came through to win 61-48, but the junior boys lost 33-22. Hope had a rough time at Bradley, though, losing three straight.

The junior girls were whipped 32-10. Senior girls were smashed 55-35, but the "B" boys were edged out by a narrow 38-37 margin.

In the first game at Jones Field House, The Arkadelphia Beavers cut off the junior's water by a 32-22 score. In a rather bad first half, Hope scored 9 to 21 for Arkadelphia. The second half was about even and it ended up 33-22. Arkadelphia, Ramsey was again Bobkitten high scorer with 7.

Then came Ingram 5; Parris 4, and Aslin, May, and Strong with 2 each. Williams scored 17 for the Beavers.

In the evening's only bright spot Hope's senior boys defeated Arkadelphia 61-48. Coach Mitchell's pre-game prediction proved to be absolutely correct as Hope took an early lead and kept it to make a 32-23 halftime score. The cats ended the game at 61-48.

Dan Jones was high point man with a big 27. Following were Russell 11, Murphy 10; Purdie 8; Porterfield and Mayfield 1. Thus the Bobcats revenge their recent 49-45 defeat at the Badger's hands.

Meanwhile down at Bradley, things weren't looking so good. In the junior girls' game Bradley swamped Hope 32-10. Becky Lewis and Janie Leonard scored for Hope with 5 points apiece.

The senior girls were able to fare a little better, but still could not overcome Bradley who won 55-35. Lady Cats scouting were Janice Lloyd, high with 13, and Shirley Smith and Annette Hatfield with 11 apiece. Collier scored 35 for Bradley.

In the "B" boys' game Bradley was able to sneak by with a one point margin in a game down to the wire. The final score turned out to be Bradley 38, Hope 37.

Honeycutt was again junior varsity high scorer with 13. Then came Thrash 10, Wassell 8, Henley 3; McNatt 2; and Reinhardt 1.

The defensive backs are Fred Williamson of Oakland, Austin Gonsoulin of Denver and Banfield and Hunt.

Oilers Crush Titans for Division Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank (Pop)

Ivy has brought in winners before in his nine seasons as a head coach in pro football, but it isn't likely he's ever had a champion that had to make a stretch run like his Houston Oilers of this year.

The Oilers crushed the New York Titans last Saturday 44-10, clinching their third straight Eastern Division title in the American Football League.

It was Houston's seventh straight victory and it buried the hopes of Boston's threatening Patriots, who had trailed along for several weeks a half game behind the Oilers hoping for a letup.

With their last chance gone, the Patriots fell 1½ back in the final standings in their 20-0 loss to previously winless Oakland on Sunday.

In the only other weekend AFL game, Dallas' Western Division champs downed San Diego 26-17 in what amounted to a warm-up for next Sunday's title game at Houston against the Oilers.

The Oilers will need all their talents and an all-out effort in next Sunday's league playoff at Houston. The Texans are a pretty talented bunch, too, led by feathered, quick-handed Abner Haynes, passing ace Len Dawson and hard-hitting fullback Curtis McClinton.

The Oilers and Texans split in two regular season meetings and oddly enough each won on the field.

Bearcats Rank Best in Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cincinnati Bearcats, ranked the top basketball team in The Associated Press poll for the third straight week today, have a tough week ahead to protect their No. 1 rating.

Winner of 24 straight over two years and driving for its third straight national championship, Cincinnati tangles with tough Dayton on Thursday and surprisingly strong Davidson on Saturday. Davidson has a 4-1 slate, having lost only to Duke, the second ranked team in the poll.

Cincinnati drew 42 of the 44 first place votes in the weekly voting by sports writers and broadcasters on the AP panel. Duke got the other two.

Police Break Up Revolt in Dakar
DAKAR, Senegal (AP)—Armed police seized the National Assembly building today and broke up a parliamentary revolt against Premier Mamadou Dia.

A showdown appeared near the simmering feud between the Socialistic premier and middle-of-the-road President Leopold Senghor over the nation's economic program.

The government imposed censorship and posted guards around Radio Senegal.

Dia ordered police to take over the assembly building after about half the 80 members of Parliament assembled to vote on a motion censuring his government.

A power struggle between Dia and Senghor has been brewing for months. A Cabinet shakeup Nov. 12 failed to bring peace between the two leaders.

Monday's workout was a help, Broyles indicated, but the team "didn't do enough running to tell" if the Razorback were back in condition from the post-season layoff.

"We just blocked and tackled," he said. "It was just like the first day of spring practice, except we didn't end it with a scrimmage."

Broyles said the Porkers did not run any Mississippi plays.

They won't get a scouting report until after they reach Biloxi, he said.

Ronnie Caveness, Big Red team center-linebacker, appeared in sweat clothes—the outfit he will work out in until after Christmas because of a pulled leg muscle.

Broyles added freshmen Bobby Nix of Benton and Richard Trail of Forrest City to the reserves help simulate the Rebels' attack.

Porkers Get Outside for Change

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—

The University of Arkansas Razorbacks got Monday the first of three outdoor workouts Coach Frank Broyles had hoped to give them last week in preparation for the Sugar Bowl game New Year's Day.

The Porkers donned pads and went through an hour and 20 minute drill in sunny, warm, 60-degree weather.

Last week cold, damp weather forced the Hogs inside for conditioning drills and Broyles feared they wouldn't get any outdoor exercise until Dec. 26, when they arrive in Biloxi to train for the New Orleans match against Mississippi.

Monday's workout was a help, Broyles indicated, but the team "didn't do enough running to tell" if the Razorback were back in condition from the post-season layoff.

"We just blocked and tackled," he said. "It was just like the first day of spring practice, except we didn't end it with a scrimmage."

MAN ON THE SKIWBALD MARE

By Nelson C. Nye

XX

Now that he considered himself safely out of sight from his watchers in the hills, Rafe pulled his animal down to a walk. Since he had managed to drop out of sight, those watchers would likely be expecting him to head south-east.

They'd figure that direction anyhow if they were some of Spangler's crowd, because South-east was the shortest route to reach Rafe's father's ranch.

Rafe looked up at the sky. About another hour till sundown. The animals needed rest and he could do with some himself. When the walls twisted around to where the floor was draped in shadow Rafe got off Bathsheba, relieved the gelding of its pack and unsaddled the mare.

Next thing he did was dig the carbine out and examine it. It wasn't what he'd asked for but it would serve till he could come onto something better. He found the telescope and tucked it into his waistband and checked the foodstuffs, flour and beans and salt and sawberry. He found two boxes of shells and loaded the saddle gun, dropping the rest of the cartridges into his pockets. He checked his belt gun and then sat down.

It was while he was moodily chomping salt pork that it came over Rafe he might not be giving this guy Spangler his due, might be selling him short. A man who could hold off Alph Chilton like he was doing, sure wasn't the kind to go stamping your boot at Spangler would be playing for keeps.

Duke was into this up to his eyeballs but Spangler was the one who'd be passing out the orders, and any guy smart as him would be too shrewd to think a feller who'd taken the beating they'd given Rafe would come charging back by the shortest route. Spangler would think Rafe had learned more caution.

The one place they wouldn't be like to look for him now was the part of these badlands closest to the ranch.

This decided, Rafe got busy. Within five minutes he was on his way, riding with the carbine ready across his knees.

The shadows around him had thickened up considerably. He some pretty tough hombres hanging out around the home place, but he would worry about these when he got to them. The big worry right now was getting out of this maze of gulches and gullies.

He kept turning left every time he reached a fork. Twice, going into blind canyons, he was forced to come back. It was full dark now with not much showing but the stars. Rafe reckoned he had traveled about five miles.

It was fairly open here but he kept to a walk, thinking he could better afford time than noise.

Another hour slipped by, then another 30 minutes. Rafe, by this time was jumpy as a cat. He began uneasily to wonder if he was turned around. Ground underfoot seemed to be still slating down when, by his calculations, he should be climbing up out of this. Walls seemed to be pinching in again, too. What few stars he could see failed to offer any notion of which way he was pointed. Bathsheba stopped, both ears jerking forward.

Rafe, peering ahead, couldn't see a thing but the black darkness that was everywhere about them. He could feel the mare tremble.

With a shake of the head and a sudden snort she spun on bunched legs and would have bolted frantically if Rafe, hauling hard on the reins, hadn't stopped her. He reined her about and kicked with one heel.

Bathsheba squatted. You'd have thought, by grab, there was somebody up there!

It didn't make sense. This would be the east rim or some part of it. There hadn't been time for Spangler's band to reach any other. This was the one place Spangler wouldn't be looking for him.

The mare was blowing like she had rollers in her nose. Catching hold of the lead rope he booted her again. Whickering, she went stiff-legged forward, her evident reluctance rankly steeped in distrust.

With the lead rope, his carbine and a balky mare to hold onto, Rafe had his hands full but kept going. Now, against the stars, he saw the rim's ragged lip. He could feel the mare stiffening up again.

He let her stop and got out of the saddle. She stood there, trembling, ears flat against her head, biling, ears flat against her head. The feel of this place tightened his grip on the carbine. It was too stinking still.

Forced to believe he'd miscalculated somewhere he twisted the reins about the pommel so that if trouble was up there she wouldn't get tangled. He let go of the lead rope.

With both hands damply clamped to the carbine he started cautiously putting one foot before the other.

Another three steps would have put his head above the rim when a stone twisted harshly under his boot. A rifle belted flame across the dark a yard above him. Someone yelled.

'Going My Way' Coming to Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—More than 18 years ago, character actor Frank McHugh played the role of a priest in a movie called "Going My Way," starring Bing Crosby and Barry Fitzgerald.

Tonight actor Frank McHugh will be back on "Going My Way," only this time it is an ABC television program—and he plays a safe cracker's assistant. McHugh, who started in show business in his native McKeesport, Pa. as a youngster, has contributed his talents as a comedy character actor to literally hundreds of plays, silent movies, talkies and, now, television. In the movies he was almost inevitably cast in every part calling for a funny drunk. He played innumerable comedy reporters, too, but perhaps is most often seen now in the late, late television shows playing a cab driver in James Cagney's famous "Roaring Twenties."

McHugh takes the long philosophical view of show business, suffering with a casual shrug what he calls, "the actor's malady."

He says, "When you've finished one job, you always believe that you'll never work again. But somehow, you do."

He does feel strongly that television misuses the word "star"—to him it is a performer of proven ability whose name (placed above the title of the vehicle) brings crowds to the box-office. "I've never been a star," he remarked. "But after all, when I entered the theatre, most of us didn't want to be. We just wanted to be good actors."

The die has been cast on NBC's "Empire"—Anne Seymour's dying, that is. Sometime early in March the character of Lucia Garret, matriarch of that huge, rich New Mexico spread, will sicken and pass away. Ironically, the episode with the death scene will be the heaviest role in actress Seymour has had in the modern Western.

The producers of the show decided to get rid of its two women characters because writers could not seem to find material for them and they were a plot problem.

Terry Moore, who plays the ranch-owner's daughter, Connie, drew a kinder fate: She will get married and move away.

AEA Has Plan to Replace Poll Tax

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The policy-making body of the Arkansas Education Association, the Council on Education, approved a proposal to seek a $1 per capita tax to replace the threatened poll tax and a teacher tenure proposal Saturday.

Both were submitted to the council at a routine meeting by the AEA's Legislative Committee. Several other committee reports were approved by the council at the meeting.

The $1 per capita assessment was the only proposal to spark any debate in the meeting, and it centered primarily on whether the AEA should advocate an apparent new tax for a relatively small yield.

Poll tax receipts for last year, which go to the schools, were $603,000. Under the new proposal any person assessed property taxes would automatically be assessed the $1 per capita tax.

The council also approved legislative committee proposals that would call for a legislative act to transfer from the public school fund sufficient funds to keep the Teacher Retirement System fiscally sound, endorsement of a plan by Gov. Orval E. Faubus to allocate 49.68 per cent of general revenues to public schools, an increased salary for teachers and establishment, after the 1964 school elections, a minimum local district levy of 30 mills before districts could get their full share of state aid.

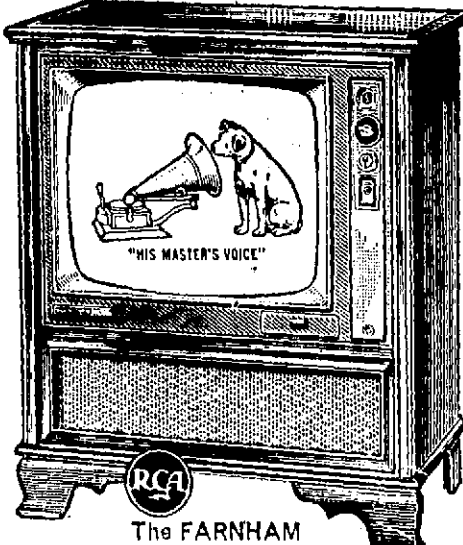

Reports from the Committee on Teacher Education and Professional Standards, the Sub-Committee on Quality Teaching and the Membership Resolutions Committee were approved.

A record high membership of 13,653 was announced for the AEA

Five Persons Die Violently in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Five persons died violently in the state Sunday and another died of injuries suffered earlier, bringing Arkansas' violent death toll for the week ended midnight Sunday to 23.

Twelve of those deaths were recorded during the weekend.

Othel Dean, 60, of near Benton, was found dead in a car parked on a Saline County road seven miles north of Benton Sunday.

Coroner George McDonald, said Dean apparently died of asphyxiation.

Elvin Pickett, who also was in the car, was believed in serious condition. He also lived near Benton.

Bonny Nolen, 22, of Leslie, was killed Sunday when the car he was driving left U.S. Highway 65 three miles north of Leslie and rammed into a utility pole, State Police reported.

They said Jack Holt, 21, of Little Rock, was a passenger in the car and suffered injuries which claimed his life several hours later in a Little Rock hospital.

Another automotive mishap Sunday killed Donnie Fitzgerald, 29, of Knobel.

State Police said he was riding in a car driven by Bobby Joe Allen, 26, also of Knobel. The car smashed into a Cache River bridge about 14 miles west of Hector on state Highway 90, police said.

A Negro man died in a fire at Hope Sunday.

Elvin Fleeny, 24, burned to death when his car caught fire. Coroner Lynn Harris of Hempstead County said apparently Fleeny could not get out of the car. Harris said he had been unable to find out what caused the fire.

A Hot Springs boy, Danny Hutchingson, 14, died in a Little Rock hospital Sunday of injuries suffered Thursday when his motorcycle crashed into a car driven

Two Degrees But Studied for Another

By ROGER LANE

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert S. Bell already had a bachelor's degree and a law degree. Nevertheless, in 1955 when he was 40, Bell returned to the campus one day a week for a year.

To do it, he had to take time from numerous business and civic activities, for Bell was executive vice president of Packard-Bell Corp., an electronics firm with 1962 sales of about $50 million.

"When an executive is through learning, he's dead," Bell said later, explaining his two-semer stint at the University of California at Los Angeles. He attended classes in a special executive development program.

Something resembling Bell's attitude has been going on in the business world the last few years and appears to be spreading.

In one of its most dramatic expressions, David Rockefeller, president of the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York, suggested periodic management leaves for high-level executives, perhaps every seventh year.

Speaking to the American Philosophical Society, Rockefeller, a brother of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, lamented the continuing division of society, especially the business world, into compartments.

The result, he said, was a stultifying communications gap in a decade of extremely rapid social and scientific change.

"We cannot afford to flounder in a communication vacuum while science and technology reshape our world," he said.

To a point, much business thinking across the country is in tune with Rockefeller's thesis.

However, many executives express doubts about the wisdom of sabbaticals of from a full semester to a year.

This year about 3,000 executives were sent to university-sponsored, in-residence executive development programs lasting two weeks or more in the United States and Canada. Roughly 50 colleges, universities, institutes and associations gave such comprehensive programs.

Courses in managerial accounting, labor relations and the like heavily accented many offerings.

Exactly what benefits are reaped from these programs?

Like many corporations, Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, which has sent more than 1,000 executives back to school in the past 16 years, couldn't pinpoint them.

"It's very difficult to appraise precisely," said H. P. Schoeck, Jersey Standard director of executive organization and development.

The real value is not so much the subject matter as in the informal rubbing of shoulders with men from very different businesses, from labor, the academic world, the military and government."

Robert Mitchell, a vice president of F. A. Triplett, 42, also of Hot Springs, was a passenger in the car and suffered minor injuries. Hutchingson was transferred from a Hot Springs hospital to Little Rock for surgery.

Also during the weekend traffic accidents killed four other persons, one was shot to death and another burned to death.

During the week two other persons died in traffic mishaps, two burned to death, two drowned, three asphyxiated, one was killed in a mining accident and one was shot to death.

Rep. Cannon as Tough as Anyone

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — They may come tougher than Clarence Cannon, but it's hard to find them.

He's the cantankerous Democrat who lambasted his own House leadership in the closing hours of the last session so bitterly that the Republican leader took the floor to say some kind words about Speaker John McCormack.

The 83-year-old Missouri Congressman, who heads the House Appropriations Committee, is a man of many facets. Depending on his mood and the occasion, he can be as tenacious as a bulldog, as stubborn as a Missouri mule, or as gentle as the dozing grandpa that he is.

A small man physically — he weighs around 140 pounds — Cannon makes up in grit for what he lacks in height. His physical encounters during a span of almost 40 years in the House include minor fistfuffs with such colleagues as former Rep. John Phillips of California and Rep. John Taber of New York, Republicans, and former Sen. Kenneth McClure of Tennessee, a Democrat.

These sparring matches occurred over differences on government money bills, all of which clear through Cannon's hands.

During his more than 30 years on the Appropriations Committee, Cannon has helped shell out billions of dollars of the taxpayers' money, and has cut billions from recommended appropriations. He warns continuously of the dangers of overspending and the evils of deficit financing.

As tight as he is with the public's money, Cannon is somewhat loose with his own, especially with silver dollars. He has shelled out hundreds of them to children whom he encounters in the course of his official meanderings.

With each silver dollar goes the admonition that if the recipient holds on to it "you will never go broke."

Cannon is mentally as well as physically agile — and he can hold a grudge or forget it.

At the end of the recent session of Congress he unleashed a tirade against the Democratic House leadership in general and Speaker McCormack in particular. He described the leadership as the most "biased and inept" he had seen during his long years of service.

Only a few minutes later, he stood and applauded as the House adopted a resolution praising McCormack's "able, impartial and dignified" handling of the speakership.

Cannon was personally close to the late Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, although Rayburn privately conceded that at times he found Cannon extremely difficult to get along with legislatively.

"Stubborn" and "bulldozed" were words Rayburn used on occasion to describe Cannon's attitude.

But when the chips were down during Democratic national conventions, Rayburn at times found in Cannon a real friend in need.

As chairman of many conventions, Rayburn always insisted that Cannon serve as parliamentarian. Conventions can get out of hand without a presiding officer and a shrewd parliamentarian.

dent of Matell, Inc., Hawthorne, Calif., toy manufacturer, said most of its middle and senior executives have gone through the UCLA program attended by Bell.

"I think there's some connection between our educational philosophy and the company's growth," Mitchell said.

Singers to East

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—The Oratorio Singers of El Dorado High School have been invited to present a half-hour program Feb. 17 at the national convention of the American Association of School Administrators in Atlantic City, N.J. Between 12,000 and 15,000 are expected to attend.

On more than one occasion Cannon dipped into his bag of parliamentary gimmicks when the going got rough. He could somehow manage to cite a precedent for almost anything Rayburn wanted to do as chairman.

Rayburn once confessed after a turbulent convention session that he didn't know where Cannon found the precedents and doubted if they actually existed.

"If he can't find them, he'll make them," the late speaker commented.

Probably no one is more experienced in legislative precedent than is Cannon. He wrote many of the House rules — and "Cannon's Procedure in the House of Representatives" is a legislative bible.

Cannon started out to be a lawyer but got into local Missouri politics to widen his field of contacts. In 1911, Champ Clark, then speaker of the House, persuaded Cannon to come to Washington as a clerk in the speaker's office.

"I wanted to see the wheels go around" for a few weeks, and took the job, Cannon recalls. He never got back to Missouri to stay. In 1917 he was named parliamentarian of the House, a post he held until he was elected as a member in 1922. Only one present member, Rep. Carl Vinson of Georgia Democrat, outranks Cannon in years of service.

In private life, Cannon is a gentle, home-loving man. His devotion to his wife, the former Ida Dawson Wigginton, to whom he has been married 61 years, is cited as a model of domesticity by colleagues.

The Cannons have two married daughters and five grandchildren. "She runs the place, but she doesn't fool me," Cannon says of the only granddaughter, "but I doubt if I fool her, either."

Cannon's hobbies are few. He tinkers at the piano and operates a diversified 750-acre farm on the Mississippi River. He is an avid student of history.

He is a Baptist by birth and by choice and has never moved his home from his native town of Elsberry, Mo., which was founded in 1879, the year Cannon was born.

Hospitals for Mental Cases Better

EDITOR'S NOTE—Just 15 years ago, the average mental hospital was hopelessly ill equipped to treat the patients crammed within its walls. Today, more effort than ever before is being directed toward better care with sometimes dramatic results. Here, in the second of five special stories, is a report on the continuing struggle to rehabilitate the mentally ill.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Writer—NEW YORK (AP)—At age 64, John C. came home after 23 desolate years in a state mental hospital. It is one of thousands salvaged from back wards of mental hospitals.

Fourteen years ago, he was another inmate in a hospital with 1,850 patients, and only two doctors. To feed, clothe, house and "treat" each of them, the hospital spent $1.06 a day. In some other hospitals the expenditure was as little as 43 cents a day.

Then an aroused state acted, providing more psychiatrists, nurses and psychiatric aides, things to do, new stimulation, to win the sick back to health. With intensive treatment John C. recovered.

Today that same hospital spends about $11 daily per patient and has only half as many patients. There, and in other of the nation's best mental hospitals, 70 to 85 per cent of patients to leave within three months to a year after admission. And this same hospital now spends only half as much, for total treatment, for every patient who recovers, due to the shorter stay.

The dolorous rub is that only 20 per cent of patients in all the nation's mental hospitals get the benefits of such effective treatment.

This includes drugs and intensive psychotherapy, the psychiatrist's way of listening and talking to and encouraging patients such as John C., "until finally a light goes on in their minds and they understand what they were doing to themselves," as Dr. William Menninger expresses it.

Still today in state mental hospitals, only half of all patients are getting anything more than custodial care—bed and board. As a national average, mental hospitals spend only $5 daily per patient, as against $34.90 daily in a general hospital for the person ill with a physical complaint.

Another idea is spreading — strike away the locks and bars in mental hospitals.

Coming along rapidly is a new concept of community psychiatry, says Philip E. Ryan, executive director of the National Association for Mental Health.

In this, the emphasis is to get the patient over the acute stage of illness by hospital treatment, then send him home to finish his recovery, much like the patient with a heart attack or tuberculosis.

Only about one-fifth of the nation's general hospitals as yet have such psychiatric units. Last year, general hospitals cared for about 350,000 of the emotionally ill.

There are other helping hands. Hospitals and communities now operate nearly 1,500 psychiatric outpatient clinics, assisting half a million persons last year.

In some communities, emotionally sick children from broken homes are finding foster homes for affection and normal experiences while being treated at mental health clinics.

Recovery from mental illness is one thing. But people can slip back if they cannot find jobs, are shunned by friends, or return to bad home situations and old problems.

New and well-established community facilities are tackling these problems.

Formerly, about one-third of patients discharged from mental hospitals relapsed and had to go back within a year.

Pilot programs stressing total rehabilitation through multiple services indicate this recurrence of illness could be reduced to 10 per cent or less, says the National Institute of Mental Health.

But only one-fourth of the nation's counties have any mental health clinics at all, and most have long waiting lists. Most hospitals are under-staffed. There are few clinics for children.

The battle for mental health costs money. Fifteen states by law now share with cities and communities the costs of expanding mental health facilities. The latest budget of the institute allocates $4,200,000 for matching grants with states to plan com-

MARILYN'S LIFE STORY—This montage of Marilyn Monroe magazine covers pictures of the late film star in the early phases of her career when she was the girl-next-door type. Two documentaries of the blonde bombshell's life will be seen soon: on television, "Marilyn Monroe"; for theater showing, "The World of Marilyn Monroe."

Approves Settlement

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Federal District Judge Gordon E. Young approved Monday a $24,500 settlement in the death of Mrs. A. L. Clark when an Air Force B-47 bomber exploded over Little Rock March 31, 1960. A suit for $175,000 damages had been filed by Mrs. Clark's husband, her daughter, Mrs. Kathleen Clark Whitman and her son, B. S. Clark, all of Little Rock. Though numerous civil suits have arisen from the crash for property damage, the Clark litigation was the only one involving a death.

The plaintiffs said they were fired by Laman without a hearing in October 1961.

In a Phillips County case, the Supreme Court reversed a Chancery Court ruling that B. M. Solomon and others were entitled to foreclose a $2,000 mortgage on property occupied by Arthur Cotton Jr.

Cotton contended he owned only one-fifth of the land and the foreclosure could not be made on the four-fifths owned by his four brothers and sisters.

The five were children of Arthur Cotton Sr., who owned the land until his death in 1948. Only Arthur Jr. had lived on the property in recent years.

The trial court held that the mortgage could be foreclosed on the entire property because the other owners had forfeited their property by abandoning it.

The Supreme Court said the same modifications.

REAL GONE—Members of the Women's Bowling League of Redding, Calif., donned zany outfits for a Last-Game-of-the-Year Sweepstakes. Mrs. Dolores Breese competed in a covered-wagon days dress. She wore a Hawaiian tie for an even more pronounced far western flavor.

Rules Fired Workers Due a Hearing

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court reversed today a Pulaski Chancery Court ruling that six discharged employees of the North Little Rock Electric Department are entitled to a hearing before the city's Civil Service Commission.

The Supreme Court based its ruling on state law regarding declaratory judgment. It said the employees should have made the city of North Little Rock a party defendant to the case.

The employees, Billy Martin, H. W. Smith, J. E. Sandusky, W. G. Loux, C. K. Phillips and W. G. Denton, named Mayor W. F. Laman and Fred D. Jarvis, manager of the Electric Department, as defendants.

The plaintiffs said they were fired by Laman without a hearing in October 1961.

In a Phillips County case, the Supreme Court reversed a Chancery Court ruling that B. M. Solomon and others were entitled to foreclose a $2,000 mortgage on property occupied by Arthur Cotton Jr.

Cotton contended he owned only one-fifth of the land and the foreclosure could not be made on the four-fifths owned by his four brothers and sisters.

The five were children of Arthur Cotton Sr., who owned the land until his death in 1948. Only Arthur Jr. had lived on the property in recent years.

The trial court held that the mortgage could be foreclosed on the entire property because the other owners had forfeited their property by abandoning it.

The Supreme Court said the same modifications.

other four had not forfeited their right as co-tenants because Arthur Cotton Jr. recognized their co-ownership.

The Supreme Court also reversed a Jefferson Probate Court decision that Mrs. Maggie J. Ksir had made a valid gift of a mortgage worth $17,000 to nephew, Joe Ksir of Roswell, N.M., and a niece, Ethel Newlander of Albuquerque.

Mrs. Ksir had assigned a mortgage executed by John and Mary Ann Walker to the niece and nephew before her death. The trial court held she was entitled to do this with the mortgage being exempt from becoming a part of her estate because it was a gift made while she was still alive.

However, the Supreme Court cited previous decision in which it had held that for transfer of property to be regarded as a gift, the giver must actually deliver the property, must pass the title immediately and must retain no future control over it.

In the case at bar, Mrs. Ksir retained interest in the mortgage and received payments thereon until her death.

Guard Situation Still Unsettled

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gen. Sherman T. Clinger, adjutant of the Arkansas National Guard, reported to Gov. Orval E. Faubus Monday on a meeting with Pentagon officials about the reorganization of the Guard.

The situation "remains unsettled," Clinger said.

Clinger said he expects to return to Washington in mid-January for more discussion of the issue.

Faubus has rejected the plan as it applies to Arkansas, and sent Clinger to Washington to discuss the same modifications.

UA Pickets Protest Segregation

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—

Some 15 University of Arkansas students marched quietly today in a picket line protesting segregated housing at the University.

A crowd of some 250 students watched, mostly good-humoredly and there were no incidents.

There was no immediate comment from university officials.

The picketing students called themselves "Students for Freedom" and carried signs with such legends as "Fulbright slept here, why can't we?" They marched from 9:30 until 10:30 a.m., then dispersed.

The picketing was conducted in front of the university library, directly across from Old Main.

Witnesses said there were about three Negroes in the group.

Some of the men's dormitories at the university are desegregated, but Negroes have not been admitted to the women's dorms or to married students' quarters. The university has been desegregated since 1948.

The pickets handed out excerpts from President Kennedy's executive order prohibiting dis-mination in federally financed housing.

The University is a land grant college and receives federal aid. The university does not register students by race, so there is no way of telling how many students are Negro. A Fayetteville resident estimated it at "more than a hundred."

The junior highs and high school in Fayetteville are desegregated.
